

THE LATEST MOVE IN THE POLITICAL GAME

These kaleidoscopic changes get on the nerves of the man whose duty it is to comment for the daily press on the events of the day. After the experience of the past three weeks, it takes a fairly sensational development in connection with Alberta politics to surprise anyone, but the story of what happened yesterday afternoon and an early hour this morning appeared to most people, on being told it, as somebody's impossible dream.

But it is reality nevertheless. Premier Rutherford offered to take Mr. Cushing back into the cabinet. Mr. Cushing had been in the cabinet, but he had been asked to resign. Mr. Cushing had been in the cabinet, but he had been asked to resign. Mr. Cushing had been in the cabinet, but he had been asked to resign.

But still we are quite free to confess that though we are unable to say what is going to happen, we are in no doubt as to what should happen. The Capital has made its position clear from the start. It has discussed the matters of controversy as fully and as frankly as was in its power. It reached its conclusions after most exhaustive enquiry. And it has stuck to them. Some of its readers may disagree with those, but they will at least give it credit for having faced the issue squarely and pursued its course consistently. If there is anybody who, in a situation like this, merits contempt it is the wobbler. For those who have disagreed with its position and have used every means to discredit the government, The Capital can entertain respect, provided that when they hit, they hit above the belt. But as for the politician or the newspaper editor who sways this way and that, who comes out with a declaration favoring one side one day and the next runs one over who is unable to form any opinion of his own, but apparently is anxious to be on the winning side, above everything else, he should be relegated, and will be without the shadow of a doubt, to political oblivion. Even those who profit today by his aberrations of policy will be the first to give him the kick downward, which he so richly deserves tomorrow. These occasions are of very great value in showing us who are men and who are not. They soon send the weakling to the wall.

Mr. Rutherford's action in asking Mr. Cushing back into the cabinet is incomprehensible after the events of the past two weeks. If the charges, which Mr. Cushing and those associated with him have made against the administration of which Mr. Rutherford is the head, are correct, if the campaign, which in violence has seldom been matched in Canadian history, was not all stage-play, how could the premier receive once more into his cabinet council a man who has adopted the attitude towards him that Mr. Cushing has? How could Mr. Cushing possibly serve under such a leader as Mr. Rutherford has been described as being?

The situation suggests comic opera rather than politics in a matter-of-fact province like Alberta. That Mr. Cross should retain his place under such an arrangement was obviously out of the question. On him has rested almost wholly the burden of the government's defence. He has met a combination of very powerful forces with a courage and resourcefulness which even those opposed to him could not fail to admire. In the midst of its criticism, the Calgary Alberta, which has been the principal journalistic force against the government, had this to say:

"The man who has come on strongest in the government in this period of trial is Hon. C. W. Cross. The premier seems to be helpless and has not even been able to give any assistance. The other cabinet ministers have just been able to keep themselves together. But Mr. Cross has been the entire government and unassisted and alone he has maintained a very strong battle. He has been the general and the fighting force." The attorney-general has certainly given the best that was in him to the defence of Mr. Rutherford's policy. He could not be expected, after the stand that he has taken, to submit to any compromise measures. It would have been dishonouring and degrading for him to have done so. As far as the general and the fighting force, Mr. Rutherford, we cannot conceive how he can be any longer a factor in the politics of the province.

The future is wrapped in mystery. With the agitation that has been so skillfully planned and carried through out in the province, with the misrepresentations that are current and the disposition to stampede, which we would have hardly thought possible with a hard-headed lot of people such as we have in Alberta, with the readiness that is apparent to believe anything of anybody, no matter whether there is any testimony to prove the charges that are made or not, there is no telling what is going to happen. But we do know that, when the people recover their senses, those who have acted with consistency, self-respect and with some evidence of sanity, need not fear what their fellow-citizens will think of them.

Constable Run Over.

Port William, Ont., March 9.—Ronald Davidson, employed by the C.P.R. as constable, fell under a moving freight car in the local yards tonight and had his two legs and left hand cut off. He is lying at an hospital in a critical condition and it is likely that the accident will prove fatal.

Criminal Doctors.

Toronto, March 9.—At the sitting of the special legislative committee on Ontario medical matters, at which Dr. Preston was elected chairman yesterday, it was decided to amend the act by making the conviction of a medical man for a criminal offence mean the automatic removal of his name from the register. A new medical district was created to include the region of Thunder Bay and Rainy River.

$10,000 VOTED FOR PUBLICITY

Council Makes Donation to Advertise Edmonton—Board of Trade will Raise $5,000

WEST END EXTENSION HOLDS

Innocent Ratepayer Causes Trouble in his Request for an Evasion of the Building Bylaws

What They Did.

Voted $10,000 to the Board of Trade for publicity purposes.

Decided to continue the effort to have the penitentiary removed further east.

Decided not to change the route for the west end street railway extension, adopted last week.

Engineer instructed to prepare estimates of cost of viaduct at Seventh street over C. N. R. and G. T. P. tracks.

Four polling sub-divisions created, making eight polling places, in all.

Electric light department to handle electrical household conveniences, such as toasters, smoothing irons, etc.

Bylaw to close "Pace street and sell property to G. T. P. read a third time and carried.

The first business up for discussion was the proposed grant of $10,000 to the Board of Trade for publicity purposes.

Ald. Lamby: "The committee appointed by the council to meet the board of trade, did so, and discussed the question with them for about two hours. I do not think that the grant of $10,000 would be any too big provided as the board carried out some of our plans. They also agreed to raise $2,000 this year, if we gave them $10,000. In fact, I would be in favor of making a larger grant, for now is the time to carry on a vigorous publicity campaign."

"The board of trade has certainly done good work in advertising the city," agreed Ald. Hyndman, "but in the past they haven't got as wealthy a class here as they have in some of the cities to the south." "It is a good round sum," remarked Ald. Armstrong, "and we ought to get some good returns. We need them. Other cities that are virtually our opponents, are spending far more money than we are for this purpose. This isn't the age of the widow's mite in matters of this sort. We must do things on a big scale."

It was finally decided to make the grant $10,000 on condition that the board of trade raise $2,000.

Gas Proposition Again

The Intermountain Lighting and Heating Co., sent a letter to the city council informing them that the L. & H. Co. wasn't at all frightened of the council's demand for a $50,000 deposit before negotiations were opened, and that C. S. Eaton and W. T. Bishop, representatives of the company, would be on hand sometime this week.

Then came a letter from C. H. Belanger, proprietor of the Cecil Hotel, that raised quite a tempest in a teapot. The letter asked that in view of the fact the present hotel building was of brick veneer, the writer be permitted to make the third storey walls of a proposed three storey extension, of a thickness of nine inches instead of thirteen, as the bylaw calls for. A lot of discussion followed the request.

"Refer it to the public works committee," moved Ald. Olund, and Ald. Carney agreed with him.

"If you please," spoke up Mr. Belanger, "I'd like you to settle it tonight if you could. Then I'll be able to let my contracts sooner."

"A week won't make much difference at this time of year," declared Ald. Millar.

Ald. Garney: "I understand the building inspector had no objection. He simply did not grant the request because it was contrary to the by-law."

Ald. Millar jumped to his feet. "What on earth have we got any by-laws for, anyway?" cried he, "if we're going to break them for every individual that comes along. Grant this request and you'll have others asking you for the same privilege. The new

INSURGENTS AGGRESSIVE

Stewart, of Sedgewick, and Boyle, of Sturgeon, Give Notice of Further Resolutions

OBJECT ENTANGLE PREMIER

Question on Order Paper as to Whether Clark's Offer was Accepted has been Postponed

Not content with the long drawn out debate in the House last week on the Alberta and Great Waterways agreement, notice of further resolutions were received yesterday which will once more put the legislature into the throes of controversy.

Mr. Stewart, Sedgewick, gave notice that on Thursday he will move the following resolution:

"Whereas the statement has been made in this house that the house of Morgan & Co. were merely agents in the transaction in connection with the sale of $7,000,000 of Alberta and G. W. bonds and that the bonds really sold at 110 and not at par;

And whereas papers that have been placed upon the table of the house would seem to bear out the aforesaid statement;

"And whereas there is a deficiency of $7,000 not accounted for;

"And whereas the aforesaid statement has not been disproved by the government;

"Therefore, be it resolved that this House desires immediate and conclusive evidence as to the disposition of the said sum of $7,000,000."

Under the proper order of business, Mr. Boyle, Sturgeon, gave the following notice of motion:

"Whereas it has been charged by several members on the floor of the house, and has not been denied by the government that the files containing the documents and the papers relating to the Alberta and Great Waterways Railway Co. have been tampered with and stripped and it appears from the condition of said files as brought down by the government that the said charge is true and correct;

"Therefore, be it resolved that this House desire the action of the government in tampering with and stripping said files and demanding that all documents and papers so removed be immediately restored to the said files now upon the tables of this house."

By the request of Premier Rutherford the answer to the questions asked the government by Mr. Boyle, as to whether the government had accepted the offer of W. R. Clarke, president of the A. & G. W. R., and had incorporated it in the agreement, was postponed until next Thursday.

Mr. Smith, Camrose, rose to a question of privilege. He wished to disclaim any responsibility for an interference with him which appeared in the Bulletin. He said it was pure misrepresentation of his position as opposing the government on the A. & G. W. deal.

Mr. O'Brien, Rocky Mountain, gave notice of his bill for the fortnightly payment of wages. The bill is up on Monday for a second reading.

The first reading of the bill respecting the Bow River Collieries Railway and the incorporation of the Calgary Trust Co. was put and the bill referred to the Railway and Legal Bills Committee.

The standing committee on railways reported the bill respecting the Saskatchewan and Central Alberta Railway Lines was reported with minor amendments.

In committee of the whole the bill respecting the Diamond Coal Co. was discussed. The committee reported progress on the bill and asked for leave to sit again.

Shams Won a Game

Montreal, Mar. 9.—Shamrocks won the last professional hockey match scheduled for the arena ice this season, defeating Cobalt last night 8 to 6. The scoring of the spectators was one of the smallest of the season. About three hundred attended, and with nothing depending on the result, the interest displayed in the play was of the mildest.

MR. RUTHERFORD HAS RESIGNED

Following Upon Offer to Mr. Cushing, Which Promptly Brought Resignation of Mr. Cross

NOW UP TO LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR

Who is Expected to Call Upon Some Member of the Legislature to Form a New Cabinet—Mr. Cross Considered Likely—A Startling Series of Events Serves as a Climax to Several Weeks of Agitation

A climax to the events of the past few weeks in the Legislature will be reached this afternoon, when the resignation of Premier Rutherford will be officially announced and Lieutenant-Governor Boyd will call upon some member of the legislature to form a new cabinet for the conducting of the business to a close of the session. It is believed that Attorney-General Cross has the strongest following of any individual member of the House and that on his shoulders will fall the constructing of a new cabinet. What the personnel of the new government will be is not known. The supporters of the Rutherford government were made acquainted with the resignation of Attorney-General Cross at a caucus held last night. The reasons given for his resignation, as far as can be learned, were that Premier Rutherford had negotiated with the ex-Minister of Public Works to take him back into the cabinet. It was reported later that Hon. Mr. Cushing backed down after having accepted.

Asked for a statement of his position this morning, Mr. Cushing spoke to The Capital as follows: "The Premier approached me yesterday with a proposition that I return to the cabinet. He put it in such a way that I was led to believe he was choosing between me and the Attorney-General. I told him that I could not give any decision as I was in the hands of my supporters. Later I told the Premier that after consulting with my colleagues I saw no possibility of change of being reconciled to his government. This is all that passed between us. Personal reasons might have led me to a reconciliation with the Premier, but I say emphatically that I never consented to return as a member of his administration." The resignation of Hon. W. A. Buchanan has been confirmed, but Hon. Duncan Marshall and Hon. P. E. Lessard will make no statement for publication. If the new cabinet cannot be sustained in the legislature, an appeal to the country will, it is expected, follow. In the other event the session will be conducted to a close. The situation as regards the continuing of the session is complicated by the fact that the estimates have not yet been passed for this year and arrears are confronting the government more and more every day.

HOUSTON REALLY DEAD

Veteran Editor, Whose Death was Reported Last Week, Finally Succumbs

Quesnel, B. C., March 8.—John Houston died here at 3:30 p.m. yesterday. Mrs. Houston is on the way from Ashcroft in a special stage travelling day and night. She did not arrive in time to see her husband alive. Houston died peacefully, conversing for half an hour before the end. The past six days he has suffered terribly and was unconscious for a long period. Doctors in attendance state that Houston must have suffered for the last three months owing to the weak condition of his heart and internal troubles which were the immediate cause of his death.

IMMENSE LOSS

Which was Caused the Exchequer by the Lord's Rejection of the Budget

London, March 9.—The rejection of the budget by the House of Lords in the preceding parliament cost the country in loss of revenue $14,000,000 in the current financial year, according to statement made by David Lloyd George in the House of Commons yesterday. The chancellor of the exchequer added that it was impossible to say whether the loss could be recovered.

Humor in the Senate

Ottawa, Ont., Mar. 8.—There was some sharp cross-firing in the senate yesterday on the subject of Canadian independence, concerning which much has been heard in the commons of late. Senator Landry wanted to know if the government intended to "put a stopper" on the zeal of Judge Langley, of Nova Scotia, who seems to be tearing about the country preaching the doctrine that it would be best to snap the tie that binds Canada to the Motherland. Sir Richard Cartwright grimly retorted that he was not aware of any method by which the government could put a stopper on Judge Langley, with any regard to his physical health, which is the nearest approach to a humorous remark heard in the senate for many a day.

A Juvenile Purse-Snatcher.

London, March 9.—The police arrested a pretty golden-haired eight-year-old girl in a local departmental store. They charged that the child is the most daring purse-snatcher ever taken here. She is extremely clever. Her father and mother are both dead and a brother aged 22 years was recently given three years in prison for forgery.

Railway Won Out.

Toronto, March 9.—The divisional court has dismissed the appeal of Sarah Brennan of Ottawa and five children from the decision of Justice Mulock, dismissing her claim against the C.T.R. for $10,000 damages. She sued for damages for the death of her husband, Paul Brennan, an employee who was run over by a Grand Trunk engine.

Two Were Killed at Granby.

Phoenix, B.C., March 8.—Archie Boyd and J. O. Mullins were instantly killed while blasting as a result of drilling into a "hothead" in Granby mines yesterday. The men were operating a machine when the accident occurred. This was Mullins' first shift at Granby, he having recently come from Cranbrook. He was 41 years of age. Boyd was 23 years of age and had been employed at the Granby mines about five years; he came from Nova Scotia. Both were single.

DEATH OF G. A. S. POTTS

A Well-Known Winnipeg Lawyer and Former Lethbridge Journalist

Winnipeg, March 9.—Geo. A. Stewart Potts, a well-known Winnipeg barrister, died at Field, B.C., last night while en route to the coast. Mr. Potts was born in northern Ontario about forty years ago, his father, a former English army surgeon, having settled down to practice in that province. Mr. Potts was educated at Victoria College, Colborne, Ont., and on the completion of his education took up newspaper work in Toronto. In the late eighties Mr. Potts came west to manage a newspaper at Lethbridge, but in 1889 moved to Victoria, where he joined the staff of the Colonist. He afterwards studied law and on being called to the bar, entered practice with Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper and Hton. Frederick Peters, a former premier of Prince Edward Island, the name of the firm being Tupper, Peters and Potts. In 1903 Mr. Potts came to Winnipeg, where he qualified to practice, and where he has resided ever since.

The Renfrew Millionaires Handled the Ex-Champions the Most Beautiful Drubbing of the Season—Just 17 to 2

(From Our Own Correspondent)
Renfrew, March 8.—Renfrew handed Ottawa's ex-champion hockey septette a fearful drubbing tonight by a score of 17 to 2. At half time the score stood 7 to 2 for Renfrew. The Creamery Town lancers were after revenge and they got it. Fred Lake was missing on Ottawa's defence. The ice was in good condition and play was fast. Renfrew checked their opponents so closely that they were able to get in but little effective work.

The game did not start until 6:30 owing to dispute over officials. Bob McDermott, who had been decided upon to referee, missed his train in Montreal. Fred Lake and Herb Jordan were finally decided upon to act. From the start Renfrew rushed things and treated Ottawa as a huge joke. In the second half Ottawa got desperate, making it up by vicious attacks, but could not get by Renfrew's defence. Taylor and Drayton Patrick breaking up every rush effectually. Small and Kilpatrick did all the work for Ottawa, scoring the two goals. Every man on Renfrew's team scored. The millionaire aggregation were in the pink of condition, especially Lester Patrick and Fred Taylor, who pulled off some star work. The Ottawas were completely employed, outkicked and outgeneralled at every stage. The lineup:

Ottawa.	Goal.	Renfrew.
Lesueur	Point.	Lindsay
Shore	Cover-point.	P. Patrick
Small	Rover.	Taylor
Roberts	Centre.	L. Patrick
Walsh	Right wing.	Lalonde
Kerr	Rover.	Rove

Officials—Fred Lake, Ottawa, referee; H. Jordan, Renfrew, judge of play.

GOOD GAME OF BASKETBALL

Y. M. C. A. and McDougall Church will Play this Evening—Calgary will be Here Very Shortly

A great game of basketball will be played in the Y. M. C. A. Gymnasium of Wednesday night, March 9th, at 8 o'clock, between the Methodist team from McDougall church and the Y. M. C. A. team. Both teams are showing excellent form and the Methodists will have to go some to win out as the Y. team have been working faithfully. It is reported that the young ladies from the church will all be here to cheer their team to victory. Tickets are now on sale and it will pay to get them early as the number is limited. The proceeds of this game will help to defray the expenses of the Calgary team which will clash here with the locals in the course of two or three weeks. The teams will line up as follows:

The line-up will be:	McDougall church	Y. M. C. A.
Clark	Forward	Parney
Chown	Forward	Cranston
Freeman	Centre	Cullen
Dingle	Defence	Ash
Chinichuk	Defence	Wauha

A small admission fee will be charged.

O'HARA GOES TO ST. LOUIS

Joe Kelley, the Peerless Manager, will not have Bill in the Maple Leaf Out-Field

William, O'Hara, whose rumor had it, would play with Joe Kelley's Toronto Press, has meekly left for Little Rock, Ark., to join the St. Louis Browns in the spring training stunts. We think Bill just made that "Toronto" official—Fred Lake, Ottawa, referee; H. Jordan, Renfrew, judge of play.

REGINA IS SIGNING PLAYERS

Manager Walters has Already Six or Seven Men Signed Up—Jim McDougall, Well-Known Player has Signed Contract

The Regina spectator says: "Things are getting warmer in the ball circles, even the climate seems to be improving and getting ready. Lucky Collins, Ed. Ward, Johnny Hooker, Tom McDougall and his brother Jim, have all been heard from and are ready to report wherever Mr. Manager Walters may give the word. We all know what friend Thomas McDougall can do, and his young brother is said to go him one better, but of course that remains to be seen; because around these parts you know we rather like Tom. To anyone, however, who watched the Chicago papers last year, brother Jim's face is quite familiar, and it strikes me that a man must show class to have his face appear thusly. Manager Walters has lines out in many places, and they are producing results, but while the club is in the formative stage it is not deemed advisable to make these details public."

ITS FUNNY
WHAT A DIFF.

Last Friday Everything was Cheerful and Bright in Ottawa, but Today Capital is Plunged in Gloom

This is the way the Ottawa Free Press forecasted the Ottawa-Wanderer game on Friday night. Sounds funny now:

Extra! Extra! Extra!!!

Dey's Arena, Saturday, March 5th, 8:30 p.m.—Fifteen thousand people in the rink and ten more clamoring for admission.

8:31—Manager Ted Day announces he will not sell anything more but rather tickets.

8:32—Fifty people were electrocuted when the timers did a finger exercise on the score board.

8:33—Sergt. Lalonde has sent to the police station for his aerodrome to remove the boys that are roosting on the ice hampers over the ice.

8:34—The Ottawas have left their dressing-room. The hand plays "See the Conquering Heroes Come." Kill that last bullet; there ain't no band.

8:35—A Montreal man paid $40 and a small block of Crown Reserve for a ticket in section D. It was marked "Clutch," and the doorkeeper had him pinched for trying to slip over a bench.

8:36—No truth in the report Ottawa will play Tom Phillips and Fred Taylor.

8:37—There are forty thousand people in the rink now, and the Hymene Society refuses to allow the management to sell any more tickets.

8:38—The Ottawas are almost on the ice, but not quite.

(Two Hours Later.)

10:38.—Ottawa playing four men short. Ten seconds left to play and score is 1-1.

10:38.09.—Hern scores for Ottawa. He mistook the puck for a piece of coal the goals tumbled at him and knocked it in his net. Game over—Ottawa 2, Wanderers 1.

Hal Hal Hal

A facetious fan explains the reason the Ottawas are as good on hard as wet ice is because they have a Shore and Lake on the team. Oh, very well. Perhaps Wanderers object to body-checking to the boards for fear of breaking Glass. Maybe the same team comes in for so many bouquets on account of having a Gardner on the line-up. Renfrew is saved the expense of carrying a surgeon to stitch up players. They have a Taylor in their employ. They call Haileybury the team with the crust on account of their Gail. We'll let it go at that.—Exchange.

TORONTO RESIGNS
FROM LEAGUE

Varsity Decided that it Would Drop Out of the Intercollegiate Because it Couldn't Get its Way

There is a big row on in the intercollegiate hockey league, that gigantic circle which numbers Queens, Varsity, McGill and Laval within its ranks.

The race ended up this season in a three-cornered tie between Queens, McGill and Varsity and the two latter colleges were ordered to play off at Ottawa, Queens as last year's champions drawing the bye. It was further decided that the winner of this match should meet Queens at Ottawa in the final.

But this did not suit the Toronto College, who objected to the expense of two trips to Ottawa so these high-brows notified the league executive that they, Toronto University, would not consent to the ruling. But here the intercollegiate executive showed its backbone by winking back that they didn't wish to go to Ottawa they could do the other thing. So Varsity has now resigned its membership in the League.

It is amusing to read the vapourings of the Toronto press as they figuratively put the Toronto Collegians on the back and tell them how they will be missed. If anybody can show us how the big Toronto gates will be missed we would be glad. There are never more than two or three hundred Toronto University students in the Mutual street rink while in Montreal, McGill men turn out en masse.

Probably Ottawa college will fill the vacancy caused by Toronto's resignations and the defuncts will never be missed.

RESULTS AT DETROIT TOWN

Samaritans of Wheeling, Va., Roll 1031 Game Which Puts Them Second—Some Good Scores

Detroit, March 8.—The leaders were undisturbed in yesterday's contests in the tournament of the American Bowling Congress. The average of the scores was high, but there was no pretty work, and the scores have killed so high that it will take shooting far above the general to beat the leaders.

Joe Shaw and Joe Rives, of Chicago, were the leaders of the day's squads in the two-men events. They shot 1,035 and jumped into sixth place.

Another Chicago man, Walter Peters, had the best count in the single, with 639, which landed him in fifth place. Clarke of Cleveland had the next best score, and slipped into tenth place with 603.

In the five-man squad, the Samaritans, of Wheeling, W. Va., rolled in second place, with the high count of 2,872.

Their good total was due to a third game of 1,291, the second highest of the tournament in the five-man events. The Liberties, of Rochester, are now fifth, with 2,786. Bills, of Syracuse, are sixth with 2,787, and the Rogers, of Buffalo, are eighth with 2,770. Individual scores yesterday included: J. Featherstonhaugh, 594; J. A. Luckie, 567; A. B. Goodwin, 567; J. Grass, 556; H. W. Pollock, 546; J. C. Floss, 566; Wm. J. Ruth, 566; and H. Kuster, 565, all of Buffalo.

Old Malachi Kittredge (remember Mal?) will manage the Jusa team in the Oklahoma league this year. Malachi, Kittredge, Jusa, Oklahoma! Can anyone beat an aggregation like that?

The anti-betting bill at Ottawa has cast a bomb-shell into the ranks of the Ottawa Hockey Club directors. The Woodbine Skates are not yet closed and will be held open until after the legislators decide the fate of other leagues.

FIRST FIT-REFORM
GAME TONIGHT

Prince Albert and Edmonton will Engage in Hard Struggle for Trophy Which is the Stanley Cup of the West

All roads lead to the Thistle Rink this evening, where the first game between Prince Albert and Edmonton takes place.

The trophy at stake, the Fit-Reform Cup, has become quite dear to the hearts of Edmonton hockey fans, and the local team has no intention of relinquishing its hold on the silverware.

Holding this cup, symbolical of Western Canada Champions, gives us a right to challenge for the Stanley Cup, and if it departed to Prince Albert we would be off the hockey map for a few months.

The local team had a splendid work-out at the Thistle Rink last evening and look very good to your Uncle Dudley. The defence, Winchester, Banford and McLeod, fit together like the paper on the wall, and it will be a daring forward that penetrates their "citadel." (Meaning goal.) Lynn and Kent, the Stettler and Strathcona favorites, together with those highly-travelled hockeyists Deaton and Boulton, are travelling like the wings of the morning and it will take a yegg-man with a jimmy to break up their combination.

The Prince Albert team arrived in town yesterday morning and are stopping at the St. James. There is no lack of confidence among the players and they feel certain of their ability to tilt the cup. Bert Boulton went around yesterday and put some 8-inch spikes in the base of the cup and it will take some lifting.

Pete Burley, the idol of the Lacombe fans and a referee who makes Russell Bowie take second place, will defend the golden bell and generally have charge of affairs. Shorty Campbell will be judge of play. No extra tickets are required to see these additional attractions.

Game will commence at 8:30 p.m., and the line-up will be:

Prince Albert.	Edmonton.
Goal.	Goal.
A. Leach	Winchester
J. Bennett	Point.
R. McDowell	B. Banford
C. Leach	Cover-point.
R. Banks	McLeod
S. Black	Rover.
R. Crawford	Deaton
Referee—Pete Burley.	Centre.
Judge of play—Campbell.	Ab Kent

JUNIORS PLAYED
INTERMEDIATES

A Correspondent Tells how the Edmonton Team Went up Against a Sturdy Strathcona Septette

The following is contributed by one of Edmonton's coming hockey stars: "Edmonton Juniors not good enough for Strathcona Intermediate." "Last night the Strathcona citizens saw the fastest game of 1910 in that city when the Strathcona Intermediates and the Edmonton juniors played a hard battle. The locals being too small for their opponents, but she game by a score of 6 to 1. The half time score was 0-0. The Edmonton boys played a star game and had great combination work but failed to score. The Edmonton juniors lined up. Goal, K. Kasse; point, Dick Carraun; cover point, J. Elliot; rover, J. Homestead; centre, A. Carmichael; left, A. Banford, right, J. McMaster.

A return game will be played at the Thistle rink towards the end of the week.

SPORTING NEWS FROM ENGLAND

A 1000 to 1 Shot Nearly Won—A Combined Football Team for South Africa—Jem Driscoll Won

English fans to hand bring details of Heavy Weapon's triumph in the Waterloo Cup, and few more popular wins have been known in the history of the event. Heavy Weapon is the fastest dog in England, and although this is a year of mediocre dogs there can be little doubt that he is something out of the ordinary run. He was one of the best backed of the sixty-four competitors after the draw was published, 1000 to 102 being among the bets looked against him.

S. Hill-Wood, his owner, is widely known as a large-hearted sportsman of many interests. He is an exponent of the Derbyshire Cricket Club, is the president and very good friend of the Glossop Football Club, and also a patron of racing and owner of horses. He is a native of Glossop, of whose town council he was until recently a member. Mr. Hill-Wood has parliamentary ambitions and at the late election he put up a great fight in the High Peak division against the old member, A. Partington. The sensation of the race this year was provided by Calahash, who was put away in the semi-final by Full Stearns. His fate must have come as a great relief to the bookmakers who laid 1000 to 1 against him and stood to lose £18,000 ($90,000).

The Rugby Union of England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales have jointly agreed to get together a team to visit South Africa. In all probability W. Call, for many years past the treasurer of the Rugby Union and a past president, will accompany the team as manager.

A very important programme was decided at the National Club recently, three contests of special interest being decided. Jim Driscoll, of Cardiff, beat "Seaman" Hayes of Oxford for the featherweight championship of England and Lord Londsdale's left. Biggie Stanley, the famous weight champion of England, defeated young Pierce, the colored heavyweight champion of America, while the third item was a six-round contest between Gomer Hewitt, heavyweight champion of the army and navy, and Private Voyles, of the Irish Guards. In this the Irishman proved successful, knocking out his opponent in the last round.

The South of Thames Cross-Country Association's championship was decided over an eight miles course, consisting of several circuits of country, in which were two long stretches of plowed land, at Grove Park. The first man home in a field of 367 starters, representing 27 teams, was F. C. Neaves, of the Surrey Athletic Club, who gained his English international colors six years ago.

SPARKLETS

Glints from the Sporting Anvil

Last spring the Chicago White Sox cleared $12,000 on the training trip, besides giving several guests a good time. At the Brantford police court Lehmman, Corbeau, Sanford and Dusty were discharged for the recent doings in the Berlin game at Brantford. The magistrate held that the police were justified in making the arrests, in view of what might have happened. Witnesses all affirmed that there was no roughness.

What manner of nature fable is that makes Wee Willie Keeler a Giant. Theatrical note: President Lynch written a third act for the breezy musical comedy, "National League Schedule."

Young Russell Blackburn, the $11,000 beauty of Chicago White Sox got from Providence, plays baseball for the same reason as Rockefellers plays golf—he likes it. Russell has $20,000 of his own, and his parents are wealthy.

PRO. LACROSSE
IN WINNIPEG

Jack Lee of that City is Making Arrangements to Form a Six Club League—Will be International

Winnipeg, March 7.—Winnipeg may this season see lacrosse of the real Minto Cup variety, according to Jack Lee, the well known local sportsman, and proprietor of the Dominion hotel.

Mr. Lee says that he is ready to put a good fast team into a league which may be formed in the course of a few weeks. The cities which are ready to go in are Winnipeg, Port Arthur, Fort William and St. Paul. These four have always been good lacrosse towns, and the organization of a good strong professional league, such as they have in the east, and on the coast, has been hanging fire for the last two or three years.

Duluth and Minneapolis are the other probabilities, and if these two places would come in, the league would be a certainty.

Mr. Lee is of the opinion that such a six club ought to pay as well as the N. L. U. down east. The expenses would be comparatively small, as a team could play in Minneapolis on a Saturday, and in St. Paul the following Monday, thus making only one trip for each game. The same goes could be worked at Port Arthur and Fort William.

Another big advantage this league would have over the one in the cent belt is because of the fact that three of the clubs will be in Canada and the other three in the United States, thus making it possible to have a game in each city on every holiday. A team in any one of these cities would no doubt be a paying proposition.

A KNOTTY PROBLEM

Dan Knott's Team was not Equal to the Task of Defeating Jack Knott's Quintette

Monday evening, Jack Knott demonstrated that his plattitude of bowling celebrities have out on Brother Dan and his followers. Jack's team took two games out of three in the Y. M. C. A. bowling league. Jack Knott, by a funny coincidence rolled 48 in each game while Dan Knott was high single with 197.

A BIG GAME FOR NEW YORK

Ottawa and Wanderers will Play at the St. Nicholas Rink March 14th and 15th—Also a Game in Boston

The two premier hockey teams of Canada, will show the false citizens of New York town how the Canadian winter sport is correctly exploited. Arrangements have been made by the Ottawa and Wanderer teams to play two games in Gotham at the St. Nicholas rink on March 14 and 15. It is likely they will even invade cultured Boston and tear the citizens of that cold-storage plant away from their books for one evening.

Both teams will be full strength and it is extremely likely that the games will verge on the rough, as Ottawa is in no friendly state of mind towards their conquerors. O you Stanley Cup!

The Man From Brodney's

By GEORGE BARR

that the Commission was granting to the tall American was not a simple statement. There is no telling to what heights his thoughts might have carried him on that sultry afternoon if he had not been harshly checked by the arrival of a messenger from the chateau. His blood leaped with anticipation.

Could it be possible? But, no, she would not be writing to him. What a ridiculous thought! His hopes fell flat as the note was put into his eager hand. It was from Britz.

Still he broke the seal with considerate eagerness. As he perused the somewhat lengthy message his disappointment gave way to a more certain form of excitement. With its calmness he was on his feet, his eyes gleaming with enthusiasm.

"By George!" he exclaimed. "What lack! Things are coming my way with a vengeance. I'll do it this very night, thanks to Britz. And I must not forget Brodney. Ah, what a consolation it is to know that there are Americans wherever one goes. Selim! Selim!" He was standing at the window, his head and eyes were gleaming with the fire of battle when Selim came up and forgot to salute, so great was his wonder at the transformation. "Get word to the men that I want every mother's son of 'em to attend a meeting in the market place tonight at 8. Very important, don't you know, Von Blutz that he's got to be there. I'm going to show him and my picturesque friend, Rasula, that I am here to stay. And, Selim, tell that messenger to wait. There's an answer."

Long before 9 o'clock the men of Jap began to gather in the market and trading place. Brodney, who had been waiting for Selim, came down from his mountain retreat. He heard the shrill "hi!" of the scorned Persian as he passed among them on the outskirts of the crowd. He caught the threatening attitude of the men who waited and watched. He saw the white, ugly face of Von Blutz, quivering with triumph. He felt the breath of disaster upon his cheek. And yet he walked among them without fear, his head erect, his eyes fixed on the market place.

The market place was a large open tract in the extreme west end of the town, some distance removed from the business street and the city proper. A break in the foothills the chateau was plainly discernible, the sea being obscured from view by the dense forest that crowned the cliffs.

Chase made his way boldly to the nearest platform, exchanging bows with the surprised Von Blutz and the astounded Rasula who stood quite near. The men of Jap slowly drew close to him as he mounted the platform. From where he stood looking out over those bronze faces he could pick out the scowling husbands who hated him because their wives hated them. After all stood the group of women who had inspired this hatred and distrust. Behind them, despised and unaccounted for by the oriental elect, were crowded the native men, who down in their hearts loathed the usurpers. It was Chase's hope that the husbands of these simple women would ultimately stand at his side in the fight for supremacy, and they were scarce in the majority. If he could convince these men that his cause was their own, Von Blutz could go hang.

He faced the crowd, knowing that all there were against him. "Von Blutz," he called suddenly. "The German started and stepped back involuntarily, as if he had been reprimanded."

"You fools!" he shouted. "Take warning! I have told you that I would not turn the guns of England and America against you unless you turned against me. I want you to hear what Von Blutz has to say in public, and then I want you to hear what I say to you. Von Blutz and Rasula and others, I hear, have undertaken to discredit my motives as the agent of your London advisers. Let me say right here that the man who says that I have played you false in the slightest degree is a liar—a liar, if you please. There is no man who has been told that I am selling you out to the lawyers for the opposition. That is the lie No. 1. You have been led to believe that I make false reports to your London advisers. Lie No. 2. You have been poisoned with the story that I covet certain women in this town, too numerous to mention, I believe. That is the lie No. 3. They are all beautiful, my friends, but I wouldn't have one of 'em as a girl."

"For the past few nights my home has been watched. I want to announce to you that if I see anybody hanging around the chateau after today I'm going to put a bullet through him, just as I would through a dog. Now, to come down to Von Blutz. You

But he did not complete the astounding, stupefying sentence. The women were screaming.

"The warship, the warship! Fly, fly!"

In a second the entire assemblage was melting furiously, doubtfully, yet fearfully, toward the pier. Von Blutz and Rasula shouted in vain. They were left with Chase and his men. You're entitled to your own opinion. But Von Blutz! Jacob, you are standing on very thin ice. I can have you shot tomorrow morning."

Von Blutz spluttered and snarled. "It is all a lie! It is a trick!" He would have drawn his revolver had not Rasula grasped his arm. The native lawyer dragged him off toward the pier, half doubting his own senses.

Just outside the harbor, plainly distinguishable in the moonlight, lay a great cruiser, her searchlights whipping the sky and sea with long white flashes.

The gaping, awestruck crowd in the street parted to let Chase pass through his way to the bungalow. His manner was that of a meddlesome conqueror. He looked neither to right nor to left.

"It's more like a Christian Eudever meeting," he said to himself, "as he was saying to himself, all the time wondering when some reckless underling would hurt a knife at his back. Life crumpled his eyes in the direction of the chateau. "Good old Britz!" he muttered in his exultation.

CHAPTER XII.

HASBUT for hours on his porch that night gazing down at the chateau. Lights gleamed in a hundred of its windows. The bitterness of his own isolation, the ostracism that circumstance had forced upon him, had been rendered more poignant on this night had not all random been tempered by the glorious achievement in the market place. He wondered if the princess knew what he had dared and what he had accomplished in the early hours of the night. He wondered if they had pointed out his solitary light to her if they had then she bestowed a casual glance upon that twinkling star of the night. The porch lantern hung almost directly above his head.

The chateau was indeed the home

The atrepreneur crowd parted to let Chase pass through his way to the bungalow. His manner was that of a meddlesome conqueror. He looked neither to right nor to left.

"It's more like a Christian Eudever meeting," he said to himself, "as he was saying to himself, all the time wondering when some reckless underling would hurt a knife at his back. Life crumpled his eyes in the direction of the chateau. "Good old Britz!" he muttered in his exultation.

$10,000 VOTED FOR PUBLICITY

building lobby will be ready next week. "Well, until then,"

The motion that the matter be referred to the public works committee was put and lost, the division being as follows:

For—Ald. Moahl, Gariepy and Hyndman.

Against—Lundy, McKinley, Miller and Armstrong.

Ald. Lundy then moved that the letter be laid on the table until the building bylaw amendments were ready.

This seemed to settle Ald. Gariepy. "Why don't we cut out this child's play and get down to business," said he. "We are no longer a village council although you might think so sometimes. Here's a matter up for decision. Let us be business men and decide it and not keep our heads in the clouds."

Ald. Hyndman: "Just to pour oil on the troubled waters I might point out that the motion is out of order."

Mr. Belanger arose and said: "There!"

"Here!" snapped Ald. Gariepy, "you're out of order now." And Mr. Belanger retired in confusion.

Then another motion was made. Ald. Gariepy suggesting that the matter be referred to the public works committee with instructions that they have the building bylaw changed to make it nine inches in similar cases.

More discussion followed, and in a full in the talk Ald. Gariepy was heard to say: "The seven days will soon be up," said he.

At length Hyndman and Moahl both declared they wouldn't vote for Gariepy's motion, and so he withdrew it.

Then the council went on to the next business point to return to Mr. Belanger's request. After one or other half hour spent in fruitless discussion the matter was dropped again, and so far as Mr. Belanger was concerned, the matter is just where it was a few days ago.

Penitentiary Problem.

The letter from Hon. A. B. Oakes regarding the penitentiary site was then read, and stirred up some of the aldermen to indignation.

"He says they'd have to keep a horse," said Ald. Hyndman angrily. "The idea of the Dominion government making such a fuss over one horse. It wouldn't cost $20,000 and it means thousands to the city."

It was decided that Hon. Frank Oliver be instructed to again bring the matter before the attention of the Minister of Justice.

A letter from the Edmonton Builders' Exchange and the Alberta Architects' Association stated that their amendments to the building bylaw would be ready this week. The letter was filed.

A letter from Mrs. Brodney's solicitors stated that the signed on the city sidewalk and broke her leg, and asked the city for damages, was filed.

A letter from the West End Improvement Association upholding the present zone for a west end street railway extension was filed.

A petition from west end property holders to have their rate changed, was presented by J. E. Wallbridge, and filed.

A petition from ratepayers asking that a sidewalk be built on Seventh street over the C. N. R. and G. T. P. track was laid on the table and the city engineer asked to furnish estimates.

The petition of the Jasper avenue merchants to have the sidewalks kept clear from builders was favorably received.

Monthly estimates totalling $32,555.31, were passed.

The report of the committee to revise the voters' list was adopted. The present list polling districts are kept and an additional subdivision will be created in each of these divisions.

New Venture for City.

The commissioners' report in regard to the handling of electric water meters, passed, and the report of the electric light department was adopted. It reads in part as follows:

"We would recommend that a vigorous campaign be undertaken by this department, having as its aim the placing in every home in the city such articles as electric water heaters, toasters, smoothing irons, etc."

To carry out this campaign successfully it will be necessary to engage a demonstrator to show these goods in a room to be fixed up for the purpose, and also use men on outside canvasses. We would recommend further that the department supply these articles for the balance of 1910 at a price which will cover only the initial cost, the estimated cost of canvassing and demonstrating in order that at large a number as possible be sold and that the department may get the advantage of supplying power required to operate the same. We are of the opinion that the department being vitally interested in securing increased revenue from the sale of power, which revenue will be continuous, will carry on a more vigorous campaign to introduce their appliances than will any private concern who have not so much to gain, and who are not allowed to spend the amount necessary to conduct a successful campaign.

Further, if the municipality is to be placed on the same footing as a private company in supplying power, it is right then the same privileges which are accorded the private company should be given to the municipality, or the particular department engaged in this work, otherwise it is manifestly unfair to make comparison. We are further of the opinion that a campaign as outlined would not be detrimental to the interests of the local jobbers but that it would rather create a demand for these appliances which must ultimately lead to increased business.

Tenders for double braided copper wire were given to the Engineers, Phillips Co. of Winnipeg, and Ross Bros., Ltd., get the contract for galvanized pipe.

The Medical Health Officer was ordered to report as to the sanitary condition of the slaughter house in Norwood.

Salary increases will be considered next week, as will the idea of putting a bell line route to the east end park, and the question of what streets are to be paved.

Ald. McKinley, who has been absent from the council for nearly two months, returned here last Friday, and occupied his seat in the council. Ald. Melains being the only alderman absent.

MUM IS THE WORD WITH CANDIDATES

Everyone is Wondering how Strong their Opponents are, but it is Only a Matter of Guessing In the Meantime there is a Merry Scramble for More Votes

Like the ever-shifting kaleidoscope, the Capital's contest is rapidly shifting and each day the list of candidates presents a different arrangement. Today your favorite may be in the lead, but tomorrow another active competitor forges to the front, and then, again, we see another crop forward, possibly from some unexpected quarter, and the show of the situation is to put in some good hard work while the Big Vote is in force.

Yesterday's standing showed six candidates with over 50,000 votes to their credit. But 275 votes separated the candidates standing first and second respectively. The city districts show the most activity in the voting line at present. Very little "stirring" in districts Nos. 3 and 4. If the votes in the paper told it, it would be very easy to get a line on the various candidates. The published sheet represents all the various candidates with the public to know. The voting is a game of "hide and seek" with the chances of success in favor of the seeker. That many of the candidates are putting forth best endeavors during the periods of increased votes is evidenced by the returns at the contest department. Some of the candidates who do not, on the surface, appear much of a factor, turn in subscriptions, place the certificate in a "persuaders" looking envelope, smile and go in search of more subscriptions to swell the reserve vote that will "cut so much figure" at the finish. No one can get too many votes in reserve.

There are some who seem to be of the opinion that it is hardly worth while to exert themselves for candidates who are present are near the bottom of the list. This is an entirely erroneous idea. There is no candidate yet who has a lead that cannot be overcome. The contest has over three weeks to run, and although some of the contestants seem to have a lead, it is not one that should in any way dishearten the friends of those who are not so fortunate. No one is in any way disheartened. There is plenty of time, a great deal for operations, and all that is necessary to change the face of the situation is to put in some good hard work while the Big Vote is in force.

Do not confine your efforts to those who already read the Capital. There are others of your friends who could readily be induced to subscribe. See what you can do with these friends' assistance, and then watch your score climb.

If you believe you can win a contest of any kind, you are a big enough jury and your own verdict is the only one that counts—the only one that is needed. Take off your coat and roll up your sleeves and head straight for the goal.

Don't wait for someone to tell you who are the people who should be honored by your fellowmen. Your neighbors as a rule wish to be shown, but are ever ready to recognize merit where it is brought to their attention. It is up to you to make them take notice.

It is a bad thing in the long run—this hard-headed, hard-hearted attitude of your fellowmen—forces you to prove yourself. It keeps you from getting self-satisfied and the pendulum it swings all the best in you and makes you at any time you have never underestimated that you strike with a world of objects to succeed and by success show that you were right after all.

A little hard work won't hurt you.

It's the crucible through which tried strength must pass to get temper. Incredibly won't rattle the person who is really determined. On the contrary, it reminds them that they must count upon themselves. It sets them going at a stiffer pace—it arouses the struggle instinct—hardens the muscles of resistance and jerks the jaws out of the fighting angle—and sweet Victory is the result.

Get right out after the subscriptions while the Big Vote offer is in force and you will be started right. The first blow is one of the most important in every battle. Load it with delay—now.

A Seasonable Talk to Men by the Toronto Art Tailoring Company

THE FINEST TAILORING SERVICE IN CANADA

Through our Edmonton representatives, The Acme Co. Limited, we furnish you with custom tailored garments made for you individually. You will have the greatest satisfaction of wearing clothes that fit you perfectly, the goods cut by expert draftsmen and cutters according to your exact measures and the exact contour and peculiarities of your figure, tailored by high-class craftsmen and made up in a style that is correct.

Mr. H. E. Hearn, our Western representative, will be at the Acme Co. Ltd., for a few days with a large range of model suits and overcoats of the latest designs for Spring. You may not need a suit or overcoat now but you will later, and you can pick out your pattern for future delivery. We guarantee to fit you perfectly, and warrant every fabric to be exactly as represented. We offer you such style and workmanship as only the high-class City tailors can give their retail trade at fancy prices. With this protection, and offering you all these advantages, why let our representative take your measure while he is here?

Our samples are the choicest fabrics, the mills are making for this season; the colors and pattern effects that will be worn by the best dressers in large cities; a range of goods most carefully selected from hundreds upon hundreds of samples submitted to us. Our fashions are also correct and authoritative. The lines' real season just like the styles we illustrate. The garments you get from us will have a certain distinction and set, a grace and grace that is hard to describe; a distinction that will impress you a once; that indefinable something called style. The fittings will harmonize; the lapels and coat fronts will hold their shape; collars will fit snug and hug the neck; graceful shoulders, beautiful workmanship throughout. These are only a few points wherein our Custom Tailoring excels.

Prices from $20 up

THE DAY IN STRATHCONA

Budget of News from the City on the South Bank of the River

Mr. Proctor Burwash was a passenger on the northbound train yesterday p.m.

Mr. A. J. Bright, formerly of Seaford, has bought out the business of Mr. S. W. Walter and is now conducting the general furnishings store formerly owned by Mr. Walter.

Those who heard Mendelssohn's "Elijah" last evening under the direction of Mr. Jackson Haulty are loud in their praise of the manner in which the oratorio was rendered. It was the treat of the season.

A meeting of the United Farmers' Association will be held this afternoon in the Balmis Block. It will be addressed by Mr. H. Jamieson of Red Deer. The question to be discussed will be the advisability of entering into a contract with government for a government-owned and manipulated pork packing plant.

Regarding the large packing plant to be built in the near future by P. Burns & Co. there seems every likelihood that the location chosen will be the site now occupied by the abattoir south of the city. This location has good railway facilities and will probably be chosen, though no definite announcement has yet been made.

On Thursday evening the Lacombe hockey team, champions of Central Alberta, and the team that defeated the local team by such a bad score on Friday last, will play the return game in the Strathcona Rink. Every one is requested to turn out and root for the boys. Thirteen to nothing or just should be the motto. And if the boys can carry it out the silverware will come to Strathcona.

Strathcona Council.

Present—Mayor Duggan, Aldermen Tipton, Lendrum, Bush, Congdon. Only a small amount of routine business was transacted.

A deputation was received from the Children's Aid Society of Edmonton and Strathcona. Mr. J. T. Collison, treasurer, and Prof. W. H. Alexander, a member of the board resident in Strathcona. Each of these gentlemen presented the work and needs of this society. They pointed out that they are organized in accordance with an act of the legislature. They now have a home in Edmonton which has been open three months, with a matron, assistant matron and an outside officer who devote their whole time to the work. During January there were twenty-seven children in the home, many of whom have since been placed in private families. Mr. Stewart mentioned especially the advantages of an organization like this as an offset to juvenile criminality. The estimated expenditure for the year is $4,000, of which the city of Edmonton has already advanced $2,100. They petitioned Strathcona for a proportionate amount of $420. The balance they expect to raise from private subscriptions. Already five Strathcona children have been placed for two of which required hospital care. The matter was laid over for a full council meeting.

A communication was received from Mr. John Walters requesting that the city store two thousand tons of coal at the power house to aid in keeping the coal mine operating. Ald. Congdon pointed out the need of carrying more than the present stock of coal which would only keep the city running about six days. The matter was referred to the joint water and sewer, and fire and light committees to report at their next council meeting.

Mr. J. M. Eaton wrote cancelling his tender for house numbering which had been accepted. On the motion of Ald. Congdon, seconded by Ald. Bush, his cancellation of this agreement was received.

Two petitions were received for water and sewer connections, one for block 135, along Fourth avenue west, the other on Ninth avenue west from Seventh to Eighth streets west. These were referred to the water and sewer committee.

Accounts were ordered paid amounting to $274.

Ald. Tipton spoke with reference to the proposed high level bridge across Mill Creek, opposite White avenue. Last year an engineer's report on the project had been obtained and it was expected that sufficient government aid could be secured to build the bridge this year. He pointed out that up to the end of 1908 the Alberta government had spent $293,750 more on roads and bridges south of Red Deer than they had north.

Ald. Bush stated that the Board of Trade had taken up this matter and had appointed a committee including the mayor and himself to wait on the Premier at the earliest opportunity.

"THE MAN FROM BRODNEYS"

For the benefit of those who did not read the first instalment of George Barr McCutcheon's great serial "The Man from Brodneys," now running in the Capital, the following summary is given:

Taswell Skaggs and Jack Wyckholme, after some domestic difficulty, each left England for the Far East. They met in Shanghai and joined in an enterprise to exploit the wealth of the island of Japan, which they bought from the natives for a song. It abounded in rubies and other precious stones and for thirty years they carried on operations there, growing very wealthy and keeping out of touch with friends at home. When they were old men they discovered that each had a grandchild. Skaggs' daughter had married an American, named Browne, and had a son, Wyckholme's daughter had a daughter, Agnes Ruthven by name. They made a will each leaving his share of the property to the survivor. Wyckholme died just a little while afterward. Skaggs fell into the crater of a volcano. At the opening of the story, Skaggs' second will, made after Wyckholme's death, is puzzling the lawyers. The two grandchildren, must marry within a year to secure the property or the entire island reverts to the natives. Sir John Abercrombie of London, is named as Wyckholme's executor and Alfred Bowen, of Boston, as Skaggs'. What complicates matters is the fact that they are already married. Wyckholme's daughter is Lady Deppingham. The question is, how, with the situation as it is, the vast estate is to be saved from the natives.

On the advice of their lawyers, both Browne and Lady Deppingham set out for the island. Browne takes his wife, to whom he protests that he would not give her up for all the world. Lord Deppingham is hard up. Both sides realize the advantage of working together against the natives.

The third chapter introduces Hollingworth Chase, a young American of fair means, large prospects, but simple habits of life, who is representing the American government in the small American dukedom of Rapp-Thorberg. He has become much interested in the beautiful Princess Greville, daughter of the Grand Duke. The fourth chapter finds him at a reception at the ducal palace.

He happens to see a man making himself obnoxious to the princess, throws him outside the garden gate, only to discover that he is the ducal secretary of the prince, to whom the princess is engaged. She doesn't seem to mind his action, but his position becomes insecure.

The fifth and sixth chapters find the Deppinghams arrived at Japan, with Mr. Saunders, the lawyer's clerk. They find the natives very unfriendly. Accompanied by Mr. Bowles, British representative in the island, they repair to the chateau of the former proprietors.

The next morning the Brownes put in an appearance. The servants go on strike, but are brought back through the resources of Browne's lawyer, Britt, who threatens them with the visit of a United States battleship. The two families live in different parts of the chateau. Lord Deppingham becomes convinced that the servants are trying to poison him.

On the advice of Von Blitz, the German Superintendent, the natives engage the great English firm, headed by Sir John Brodney, to look after their interests. A member of the firm eventually arrives, and is subject to much mystery. The Brownes and Deppinghams do not know his name but learn he is an American. The mystery is deepened by the news that he has had a falling out with Von Blitz and given him a sound thrashing.

Yes--You Can Buy Things More Cheaply at a Store That Advertises!

If you were a merchant, would you rather sell a thousand yards of silk in a day, at profit of 10c. a yard, than to sell (without advertising) fifty yards, at a profit of 25cts a yard?

Isn't it plain that in all such instances the buyer gets the benefit of the "volume of business" which advertising enables the merchant to do?

The money cost of a journey —long or short—by stage coach (not to count time, or comfort) was greater than that of a present day journey by railway. The "old ways" of doing things were not even CHEAPER.

The cost of things in an old-fashioned store nowadays is greater than in the progressive stores—the advertised stores. It's not even CHEAPER to patronize the non-progressive merchant—not to count the unwisdom of helping make it possible for reactionary and non-progressive merchants to still "do business."

ANSWERING some want ads will keep your "Business Wits" SHARPENED

CHANTICLER IN NEW YORK

A Great Stir at the Convention of the Retail Milliners in that City

New York Sun: (The people who go so ornamentally in the felloes of the Hotel Victoria, Broadway and Twenty-seventh street yesterday afternoon were surprised by the sudden appearance of a woman whose orbit as she travelled towards the elevator was high as dazzling as that of Holey's. She came in some day. But the brilliant swift career was not what delighted the Ichthyologists. The woman appeared to squawk.

Of course it was nobody's business whether the woman squawked or not. A disapproving frown followed her to the room where the National Association of Retail Milliners is usually convened. Entering this room, the distressed woman drew a live rooster out of her cavernous muff. She held it up with a pensive air. The rooster squawked at stated intervals.

"Chanticleer!" exclaimed Mme. Martin, who is president of the retail milliners.

"And well you may be surprised to see him!" retorted the newcomer. "Why I had to buy this one alive in order to get one at all. And I tried to bring this week and every time I needed it brought his face right round so that he stared at me with eyes full of reproach and I had to give up the idea of killing him and bring him alive. Oh, oh, oh!"

This incident brought to light the strange condition which causes poultry to squawk this spring. The cold storage trust has gone and cornered the masculine poultry market just when the Chanticleer has come in vogue. Did you ever hear of anything so mad-making in your life?

"Fancy!" cried Mme. Martin as with a firm, avowed countenance she wrung the rooster's neck. "Yes, the cold storage trust! Probably that Dr. Cook has something to do with that. All the roosters are at exorbitant prices. Yes, a rooster is simply essential for the Chanticleer. It's a pretty piece of symbolism, isn't it?"

Only one hat pin must be employed in securing the chanticleer. The unhappy bird must not be impaled. Since the rooster has a red comb no comb must be worn in the hair. On other hats two hat pins may be employed. While the rooster was being moun-ed upon an unfinished headpiece the women examined several large cafe hats. The one most liked was of moderate area. The shores were gold lines. Pansies grew luxuriantly on the plain or tableland was covered with a thick vegetation of palest blue mauve. To the right, as far as the eye could see, were velvet mountains in the shape of a bow and a delicate blue in the distance.

The milliners hope soon to have a building where they can make scientific experiments of the greatest nicety with precise scientific millinery substances. As a sample of what can be done along this line here is the formula for a splendid hat:

Arg, gun, 4-crown grey narcissi cor, aurifer, 4-apricot, aur, et rosa—chiff and pectinifer.

Which, being interpreted is: Silver gauze and a crown of grey narcissi with yellow hearts. A rose of apricot chiffon and gold gauze superimposed.

"The prevalent style," said Mme. Martin, "is after the reign of Louis XVI. Crowns tending to peribon summit at the back. Next season the styles will be peculiarly Egyptian, although pure Persian fashions will be worn by the ultra class. Even now we have street hats with veritable canopies, and these canopies are common on automobile hats. Earrings will be proper when next season comes, earrings and jewelled Egyptian head-dresses.

"Hats are always a bit in advance of gowns. The Egyptian style will not affect gowns as yet."

AFTER DODGING SNOW SLIDES

Passengers Reach Vancouver Having Passed Through a Narrowing Experience

BRAKEMAN'S NARROW ESCAPE

Had Gone Out to Flag Train and had to Run for His Life When Slide Started

Vancouver, March 8.—Tired and travel-stained after their harrowing experiences in dodging snow slides at the summit of the Selkirk, over 150 passengers reached here early this morning on No. 97, the west-bound through express of the Canadian Pacific. The passengers related many thrilling ling stories of their narrow escapes from death and gave the first hand information of the magnitude of Saturday's awful disaster in the Selkirk.

When the second avalanche followed on top of the first slide and at the same identical spot, train No. 97 with its banian freight of men, women and children was stalled at Rogers' Pass station just one mile further east. Smasher danger dogged its wake all through the Rockies and the climax was reached at Bear Creek station, 7 or 8 miles east of Rogers' Pass depot. The passengers had just reached the former point when the slide covering the track to a great depth for a distance of 1,000 feet crashed down the mountain side. Less than four minutes before the train had passed the spot, another train who was sent to flag another train had to run for his life. He barely escaped the slide. Its outer edge covered him with a mantle of snow. Those events occurred late Friday afternoon.

Passengers Spent Terrible Night.

At eleven o'clock owing to the possibility of a slide at the station the train was moved farther west to the next station. Throughout the night passengers heard the boom of the unfiled roar of the avalanches descending from the adjacent peaks, expecting that their own fate might be sealed at any moment. Daylight of Saturday morning brought confirmation of rumors persistently circulated among the sleepless travellers that the work train crew, bridge gang and section men had been buried a mile further east by a big slide shortly after midnight.

Saturday and Sunday were devoted to an inspection of the place where so many lives had been so suddenly snuffed out. It was not until 10:30 yesterday morning that No. 97 was enabled to start for Vancouver. The main slide, it now transpires, has not been removed from the tracks. The train was enabled to get by the spot as the main line had a mile east of the scene was connected by temporary tracks at an old abandoned line covered with a snow-shed. Through this snowshed 150 feet of which was carried away by the death-dealing avalanche, the passengers were hauled before seeing daylight again on their long run to Vancouver.

Train Men Obliging.

The passengers declare that weeks will elapse before the enormous mass of debris can be removed from the main line at the scene of the disaster. They spoke enthusiastically of the care they received from the conductor and train hands of the express. The ladies were especially grateful for the devotion of Mr. Moore, the sleeping car conductor. He had a sleepless vigil for four days and moved around among the passengers inspiring them with his own heroic confidence.

Official despatches from the scene which came to hand late this morning stated that the progress being made is not as satisfactory as had been expected owing to the fact that so much heavy timber was mixed with the snow and debris. This has put the railway plow out of commission and seriously delayed the work, it having been found necessary to do practically the whole of the work of shovelling out by manual labor. At shed No. 14 there are 230 men working as hard as it is possible for men to work, and it is expected that the line will be clear there at eight o'clock tonight. This shed is located about one mile east of Rogers' Pass.

At Glenogle, 300 men are busily engaged in the same work and they hope to have the line cleared at that point by 10 or 20 o'clock tonight. Only one body has been found besides those already reported. This was Ralph Hughes, a carpenter in the gang at McDonald's. The body of Conductor Ruckley has been shipped to Samia; that of Roadmaster Fraser to Fort William and D. J. McDonald to Sydney, N.S., that of Fireman Griffiths to Vancouver. The remains of Brakeman Mahon reached the city last night.

EPWORTH LEAGUES MEET

Delegates from Northern Alberta Hear Interesting Papers at Annual Convention

The convention of the Northern Epworth League, which opened yesterday afternoon in McDougall Church, is being well attended, delegates being present from Vermilion, Wainwright and Wetaskiwin, Clover Bar, Edgewood and other places. Papers were given yesterday by Miss E. Sutton of Clover Bar on "The League in the Religious Life of the Community," by F. W. Cox, Edmonton, on "The League in the Business Life of the Community," and by J. A. Doyle, western secretary for Sunday schools, on "League Ideals."

"Secrets of Success in the Missionary Department" was the subject of a paper given by Miss V. Porter and Mr. J. Robinson. Rev. E. J. Hopkins also gave a paper on the "Value of Discussion in the Regular League Session."

The convention closes this evening and the program for this afternoon and tonight is as follows: 2.00-2.20—"Quiet Hour," Rev. A. D. Richard.

2.20-2.40—"The Sunday School and Missions," Rev. N. McDonald, Edgewood.

2.40-3.15—Round Table: "The Adult Movement," C. E. Race.

3.15—Address: Rev. J. A. Doyle.

8.00-8.15—Devotional exercises and remarks, president, etc.

Selection, Grace Male Chorus, address, "Young People and the Temperance Cause," Rev. W. G. W. Fortune, solo.

Mr. E. W. Cook, address, "Mind Your P's and Q's," Rev. J. A. Doyle, solo.

Miss V. Johnston.

MARK HAMBURG.

In the course of his tours and travels, Mr. Mark Hambourg has had many adventures, and he is full of amusing stories. Undoubtedly the most extraordinary that has ever befallen a public performer, was when, during a recent European tour, he was decoyed to the underground meeting place of Russian revolutionists in Warsaw, and compelled to play to them.

Once when Mr. Hambourg was playing at one of the smaller colonial towns he was very much annoyed, during a performance of a work with orchestra, by the first violin continually coming in at the wrong place, quite regardless of the fact that by so doing he constantly interrupted the pianist. Mr. Hambourg said nothing for some time, but at length he good-humoredly expostulated with the man in a low voice. "Let me tell you," replied the culprit angrily, "that I put up the money for this orchestra, and I shall come in when I like."

Mr. Hambourg was once playing, at a small inn, a concerto, the orchestral part of which was performed upon another piano. The two pianos were placed end to end, the accompanying instrument being farthest from the audience, in the darker part of the stage. During a pause in the solo, the second piano took up the orchestral part, whereupon a lady in the audience was overheard to say to her companion: "What a marvellous pianist!" "Oh, yes," replied her friend, "but you see his feet going, he is such a wonder with the pedals!" Mr. Mark Hambourg plays in the Edmonton Opera House on Tuesday next, March 15th.

The names of Mr. Ray B. Smith, clerk of the Assembly, and one of the Republican State leaders, were brought out during the testimony of Mr. Barnes.

Naval Debate Continues.

Ottawa, March 8.—The naval debate did not come to a close tonight, although the party whips last week had proposed that a division on the second reading should take place at today's sitting of the House. It was found that there were still a number of speakers who desire to be heard and a division is not likely to occur before late on Wednesday night, and perhaps not till Thursday.

The speakers today were Messrs. Clare Reid (Grenville), Beattie and Smythe, on behalf of the Conservatives, and Neely, Gervais, Gladu and Seguin for the government. Mr. Loggie moved the adjournment on behalf of Mr. Emmerson, former minister of railways. Apart from the naval debate no business of importance engaged the attention of the House.

MISS VIOLET CHARLESWORTH

In the Dorby Assize Court Violet Gordon Charlesworth and her mother were each sentenced to five years penal servitude for obtaining money under false pretences and for fraudulently representing that the younger woman was an heiress to a great estate. The judge, in passing sentence, referred to Violet's remarkable ingenuity, which, he said, if properly applied might have won for her and honorable if not distinguished career.

Both prisoners collapsed in the dock on hearing sentence.

Violet Gordon Charlesworth disappeared last February, after a meteoric career in high finance, in the course of which, on the strength of a mythical fortune of $2,500,000, she borrowed many thousands of dollars, one brokerage firm alone admitting that she owed it $50,000. She was importuned by her creditors, and then the report was spread that she had been killed while automobileing in the neighborhood of Penmaenwael, Wales. Investigation proved this untrue, and ten days later she was arrested with her mother at Oban, Scotland.

The Philadelphia Strike

Philadelphia, March 8.—It looked much like the beginning of the end of the "general sympathetic strike" called in aid of the street car employees who have been out for more than two weeks.

"We got 'em out, didn't we?" was the claim today of the labor leaders, who had been predicting that they would induce 100,000 workers to leave their jobs and make a silent protest against the poor pay and adverse conditions inflicted upon the trolley men. "Yes, but you could not keep 'em out," was the reply today by the transit company and the city officials, who have been all along in sympathy with that corporation.

"And it seems now as though the corporation and city officials were justified in that reply. For today there was a decided drift away from the ranks of the strikers and back to the jobs that were thrown up with such a flourish on Saturday.

As has been frequently pointed out, the three most strongly unionized trades here are building, clothing and textile. They carried away from their mill and operations most of the 100,000 "sympathetic strikers" but in that number also were many miscellaneous trades, taxicab chauffeurs, machinists, foundry men, box makers and the like.

New C. P. R. General Solicitor

Montreal, March 8.—A circular has been issued today by Mr. A. R. Creelman, general counsel of the Canadian Pacific announcing the appointment of Mr. E. W. Beatty, as general solicitor for the company, with office at Montreal.

Mr. Beatty is an old Ontario boy, born at Thorold, he was educated at Upper Canada College and the University of Toronto, studying law at Osgoode Hall, and with the firm of McCarthy, Osler, Hoskins & Creelman. On Mr. Creelman being appointed chief solicitor for the Canadian Pacific, Mr. Beatty, who was called to the bar in 1901, accompanied him here and in 1904 he was appointed assistant solicitor. His promotion creates a new office, consequent upon the appointment of Mr. Creelman as general counsel.

A delegation headed by P. L. Naismith, of Leithbridge, general manager of the A. R. & L. is in the city from the south, to protest against O'Brien's coal mine bill.

Just Good Enough To Be Dangerous

If poor advertising mediums were ENTIRELY worthless they would not be dangerous! For they could not, then, make any appeal whatever to sensible advertisers.

But an advertising medium which has a LITTLE MERIT is, like "a little knowledge," a "dangerous thing." Some business men there are, always, who—for considerations of "cheapness," etc.,—will either rely upon such mediums wholly, or give them an absurdly large part in their advertising campaigns.
